Uncertain Memory.

This particular schoolteacher is of the calm, undisturbed type. She doesn't wish to be held responsible for her actions on a recent afternoon when she attended a "highbrow" reception.

At the door stood a man in very correct swallow-tail. She smiled in a very friendly manner and extended her hand. She shook his hand with a hearty grasp, saying cordially:

"Your face is so familiar, but I cannot recall your name."

He blushed and stammered, but hadn't really said anything, when the situation dawned on her. He waited table in the little cafe where she stopped daily for breakfast on her way to school.

His Trout Was Feathered.

Frank Flook of Lycoming, Pa., went fishing for trout along the "Little Gap" run and caught a large pheasant.

He is not likely to get into trouble with the state game authorities, as the incident was the fault of the bird. As he was tramping along the stream, Flook, unknown to himself, scared up a flock of pheasants. He was in the act of casting his line, when a frightened pheasant flew ahead of him, just in time to be caught in the wing by the trout hook.

The bird flew into the woods with the broken line and escaped.

Innocent.

"Why, Mr. Frontpew," exclaimed his pastor, reprovingly, "I am surprised and grieved to see you coming out of a common liquor saloon."

"Well—er—you see," stammered Mr. Frontpew. "I—er—just stepped in there to look at the mirror to see if I had a smudge on my nose."

Every time a man starts in business for himself he learns a lot of things he would rather not know.

MEAL-TIME CONSCIENCE.

What Do the Children Drink?

There are times when mother or father feeds the youngsters something that they know children should not have. Perhaps it is some rich dessert but more often it is tea or coffee.

It is better to have some delicious, hot food-drink that you can take yourself and feed to your children, conscious that it will help and strengthen, but never hurt them.

A Yorkstate lady says: "I used coffee many years in spite of the conviction that it injured my nervous system and produced my nervous headaches. While visiting a friend I was served with Postum and I determined to get a package and try it myself. The result was all that could be desired—a delicious, finely flavored, richly colored beverage. Since I quit coffee, Postum has worked wonders for me."

"My husband, who had suffered from kidney trouble when drinking coffee, quit the coffee and took up Postum with me and since drinking Postum he has felt stronger and better, with no indication of kidney trouble."

"You may be sure I find it a great comfort to have a warm drink at meals that I can give my children, with a clear conscience that it will help and not hurt them as coffee or tea would."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Postum comes in two forms: Postum Cereal—the original form—must be well boiled. 15c and 25c pkgs.

Instant Postum—a soluble powder—dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water, and, with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins.

Both forms are equally delicious and cost about the same per cup.

BIG DAY FOR THE SUNDAY REVIVAL

Eighty Thousand Persons Hear Evangelist and Helpers at Kansas City.

17,000 WERE TURNED AWAY

Ma Sunday Addressed 9,000 Women at Convention Hall—3,531 Converts in Two Weeks.

Kansas City.—If a man were going to preach a sermon about the Billy Sunday meetings, the second chapter of Mark, second verse, would be a good text for it. Eighty thousand went out to hear Billy Sunday and members of his party preach last Sunday; but "there was no room to receive them," and twenty thousand were turned away. At the Tabernacle were ten thousand in the forenoon, twenty thousand in the afternoon, twenty thousand at night, and at least seventeen thousand came and found no standing room, "not so much as about the door," for there they stood ten deep, with umbrellas up, rain dripping down their necks, straining to hear even a word now and then.

Mrs. Sunday to Nine Thousand.

Mrs. Sunday had nine thousand women in Convention Hall, which had been cut in two by a curtain, no one expecting so many, but Louis Shouse, the manager, said three thousand were turned away. Seven hundred boys and girls were at the meeting in the Grand Avenue Temple, where Miss Gamlin spoke.

The harvest for converts for the day was 477, making a total of 3,531 in the two weeks since Sunday began his campaign.

And he preached the word unto them; speaking in the tabernacle, he threw the harpoon into them good and proper at the great men's meeting in the afternoon. To use Billy's own words he knocked 'em down, skinned 'em and dragged 'em out.

Biggest Men's Meeting Ever.

It is a certainty that so many men never gathered together before in Kansas City to hear the gospel. Six or seven thousand of the twenty thousand stood up all through the sermon, and the rain dripped on some of them, and it was sudden underfoot out there in the vestibule, but it was so quiet throughout that every word uttered by Sunday was heard by all. At the close of the sermon Sunday said he had never preached to so quiet and attentive an audience.

Mr. Sunday said the gathering in Convention Hall was the largest audience of women the Sunday party has ever brought together.

Discussed Ten Commandments.

Billy Sunday talked to 20,000 people in the tabernacle at night and when he had finished those 20,000 had a view of the Ten Commandments that they had never had before. Billy took the commandments, one by one, and talked long and hard and in minute detail as to what those commandments stood for. There was the first commandment, "Thou shalt not have strange gods before me."

A whole lot of people live under the happy delusion, Sunday said, that they worship only one God, but they don't realize that they worship other gods to the disparagement and neglect of the one true God. He talked about money as one of the gods and in rapid succession described the various gods which may be worshipped, knowingly or unknowingly.

Sunday said the man who has nothing but money—money and nothing else—is the loneliest man in the world. He described besides the money god, the social god. Society, he said, is one thing that the average man has not gone "daffy, bughouse and nuts about," but the women, he said, are not like the men. They would rather entertain a society bell-wether than entertain God, he charged, and women who do this worship a false god. There are women, he said, who openly and frequently break the Ten Commandments who would stand in terror at the thought of violating a social custom.

Rape Adulterers.

Sunday, in discussing the seventh commandment, assailed men who are false to their wives and wives who are false to their husbands. He also assailed the gossipers. These he characterized as "dirty degenerates, low-down pimps, dirty dogs and lying scoundrels." Gossip, Sunday said, is the besetting sin of every community and the person who listens to gossip is as much a sinner as the persons who tell it.

People Lack Vision.

"Lack of Vision," was Mr. Sunday's morning topic. He built his sermon on vision applied to contemporary life. His subject was, "Where There Is No Vision the People Perish," and he asserted that Christians are those who had visions of being something better than sinners.

Sunday asserted that the preachers have lost their vision and he declared that "too many rank skeptics and infidels" are in the pulpits.

He said:

"Where there is no vision the people perish. Where there is no appreciation of the plan of redemption the people run wild and riot. They become vicious. The same is true with communities and with nations where there is no ideal and no striving toward an ideal."

"Genesis, first chapter, first verse, says: 'In the beginning God.' 'Seek ye first the kingdom of God.' Whoever fails to regard the plan of life, is as foolish as the sea captain who tried to guide his ship by the clock instead of the compass. Insofar as you run cross-ways to God you will have no vision."

"Every nation must have a vision or perish. The colonists had a vision of liberty when they threw off the yoke of Great Britain. Where are Babylon, Assyria, Nineveh, now? They had no vision. Every man that has amounted to anything in the world had a vision. Alexander the Great, Caesar, Columbus, Raphael, Angelo, Robert Fulton, Eli Whitney, Edison, Bell."

"The reason why you are a Christian is because you had a vision of being something better than a sinner. The reason I am preaching is because I had a vision. I want to get prayer and personal work in order that we may have more of a vision."

Twelve thousand people stood up in the tabernacle Friday night and with bowed heads revisited the Lord's Prayer as Billy Sunday raised his hands and bade the multitude to pray. A few minutes previously 227 persons had answered the evangelist's summons and "hit the trail." A thousand more had marched to the platform and had shaken the hand of the evangelist in token of their renewal of a pledge to Jesus Christ. It was one of the greatest nights of the revival.

Flays Derelict Members.

Preaching on the topic, "Three Groups," a sermon based on the sorrows of Jesus in the Garden of Gethsemane, where he asked his apostles to remain and pray with him, Sunday drew similes from the actions of the apostles on the eve of the Crucifixion. He flayed the derelict church members in a merciless manner. He attacked the Christian, who thinks he has done his full duty when he goes to a church on Sunday, drops a pittance in the plate and "covers seventeen inches of pew space for a half hour while he listens to a sermon."

In many ways it was the most striking sermon that Sunday has preached here. Most assuredly it was the most unusual. He described the sorrows of Christ in the Garden, and gave a representation of Christ's prayers to the Father, while the disciples remained at a distance. He would go to the edge of the platform and put his hands to his mouth in the manner of a man yelling at a great distance.

Churches Need Revival.

"We don't need new members half so bad as we need the old ones made over," declared Billy Sunday in a snappy, philosophical sermon on the text, "Ye Are My Witnesses," at the tabernacle in the afternoon.

"I want deacons, trustees and plain members to show their enthusiasm for God by joining the army which wants to be saved," he went on. "I am glad of this storm today. It shows just how much some of us think of religion."

"The trouble with the church is that it hasn't smelled gunpowder for a long, long time. What it needs is a little persecution. Then we would find out for sure just who is following God through devotion and who is following Him for the loaves and fishes."

The Afternoon Sermon.

For his sermon in the tabernacle in the afternoon, Mr. Sunday took the subject, "Ye Are My Witnesses."

Text: "But ye shall receive power after the Holy Ghost is come upon you, and ye shall be witnesses unto Me, both in Jerusalem and in all Judea and Samaria and unto the uttermost parts of the earth." Acts 1, 8. He said:

"That means in the slums, in society, in the store, on the railroad, wherever you are. Jesus Christ staked His cause upon the character and the lives and the utterances of His followers."

"The Power of God."

Sunday talked on "The Power of God" and he preached in a wonderfully magnetic way to the students on God's power and the necessity of God's power if one would win in the battles with the world.

The evangelist assailed those that sneer at the gospel and said that the gospel has been sneered at as all great discoveries and inventions in the world have been sneered at. He used his similes with wonderful effect. "Men have mocked and sneered at the greatest discoveries of the world," Sunday said, "so it is not surprising that they should also mock and sneer at the gospel of Jesus Christ."

General Conference of Church to Begin Balloting for Seven at Once.

MAY CHANGE DISCIPLINE AGAIN

Committee Favors Removal of Prohibition Against Card Playing, Dancing and Theater Going.

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., May 15.—

The recommendation that seven new bishops or general superintendents be elected will be made to the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church by the committee on episcopacy. Six of the new bishops will be assigned to episcopal areas in the United States, and one will be stationed at Seoul, Korea. In addition, two missionary bishops will be recommended for work in Africa, to succeed Bishops Isaiah B. Scott and Joseph C. Hartsell. One of the missionary bishops is to be of African descent, if the committee's recommendation is adopted. A new episcopal residence will be established at Detroit; the Oklahoma residence will be transferred to Pittsburgh, Pa., and that at Kansas City, Kas., will be moved to Wichita, Kas.

It is planned to have balloting for the new bishops begin at once and continue until all of the required number have received a two-thirds vote of the conference.

The committee on episcopacy, it was reported tonight, has voted to indorse the proposal to unite the Methodist Episcopal church and the Methodist Episcopal church, South, which became divided over the question of slavery seventy-one years ago.

Announcement was made tonight that the committee on state of the church, to which was referred the much discussed question of amusements, will report in favor of eliminating from the discipline the prohibition against games of chance, theater attendance and dancing.

One of the most important subjects to be acted upon during the coming week is the general statement of the attitude of the church on the question of temperance and prohibition. The report agreed upon specifically urges the immediate submission by congress of a prohibition amendment for action by the states.

NEW LAW TO PROTECT BIRDS

The Proposed Regulations Are to Go Into Effect by August 16 in Both Zones.

Washington, May 15.—Proposed regulations for the protection of migratory birds to become effective on August 16 next, or whenever they are approved by the president, was issued today by Secretary Houston. Hearings will be held on any complaint filed after the public has examined the regulations which prescribe closed seasons and designate the migratory game birds and insectivorous birds.

Two zones with different closed seasons are established for protection, one a breeding zone and the other a wintering zone. All the states north of Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, Tennessee, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California are declared in the breeding zone and the states named and those south of them in the wintering zone.

The closed season for water fowl including brant, wild ducks, geese and swans, is set as December 21 to September 6, inclusive, in the breeding zone and February 1 to October 14, inclusive, in the wintering zone with exceptions in certain states.

TO REORGANIZE THE FLEET

Secretary Daniels Orders Six of Older Battleships in Reserve—Crews to Dreadnoughts.

Washington, May 13.—Reorganization of the first line of the Atlantic fleet was ordered today by Secretary of the Navy Daniels so as to place six of the older battleships in reserve and release a large part of their crews to man a destroyer division and the new dreadnoughts Oklahoma and Nevada.

About 4,200 men made available by the change will be distributed between six destroyers and the new dreadnoughts.

The New Jersey, Virginia, Rhode Island and the Nebraska were ordered in reserve at the Boston navy yard, the Connecticut at Philadelphia and the Louisiana at Norfolk. When repairs have been completed they will be maintained with their crews reduced 60 per cent, but in shape for active service within forty-eight hours. These vessels will be included in the nine battleships to be used this summer for naval militia and citizen volunteer training cruises.

Fly Poison Kills More Children Than All Other Poisons Combined

For Safety's Sake, Use

Is there in your home, anywhere within baby's reach, a saucer of arsenic poisoned paper floating in water, or a can with a sweetened poisoned wick?

During 1913, 26 cases of fly poisoning were reported from 11 states; in 1914, 46 cases from 14 states. Fly poison kills more children than all other poisons combined.

Yet fly poison still is left unguarded except in the homes where mothers have learned that the safe, sure, non-poisonous, efficient fly catcher and destroyer is

The Journal of the Michigan State Medical Society comments thus in a recent issue: "Symptoms of arsenical poisoning are very similar to those of cholera infantum; undoubtedly a number of cases of cholera infantum were really cases of arsenical poisoning, but death, if occurring, was attributed to cholera infantum."

"We repeat, arsenical fly destroying devices are dangerous and should be abolished. Health officials should become aroused to prevent further loss of life from their source. Our Michigan Legislature, in this last session, passed a law regulating the sale of poisonous fly papers."
